Two of Bob Cooley's Elite Team, Anne Tierney and Steve Sierra, do private sessions and run Certifications and Workshops across the country.

They have worked on professional athletes such as Alan Houston (NY Knicks) and Charlie Ward (Houston Rockets), as well as clients with severe back and heart problems, cerebral palsy, numerous injuries, and everyday individuals.

They were the lead trainers involved in the NBC makeover of "The Today Show" Anchorman Al Roker and his quest to "Lose the Last 20."

They currently live in Florida, where they are training Olympic Gold-Medalist Dara Torres for the 2008 Olympics.

To register, contact the persons listed below. Only $500 for two full days of training.
